Reasons For Allowance

1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:
2. The prior art does not disclose or suggest the claimed "the extra thickness defined by the stiffened portion relative to the remainder of the strip is situated exclusively along on an outer side of the outer turn" in combination with the remaining claim elements as set forth in claim 1.
3. The prior art does not disclose or suggest the claimed "the thickness of the stiffened portion in the plane of the hairspring varies over the entire length of the stiffened portion as a convex and tenuous function and presents a minimum substantially equal to the thickness of the remainder of the strip at the two ends of the stiffened portion and a maximum that is greater than the thickness of the remainder of the strip between the ends" in combination with the remaining claim elements as set forth in claim 28.
4. The prior art does not disclose or suggest the claimed "calculating the unbalance of said plane hairspring; calculating a portion of the outer turn of said plane hairspring having the same unbalance as the plane hairspring; and stiffening said outer turn portion." in combination with the remaining claim elements as set forth in claim 33.
5. The prior art does not disclose or suggest the claimed "calculating the unbalance of said plane hairspring; calculating a portion of the outer turn of said plane hairspring having the same unbalance as the plane hairspring; and varying the thickness, in the plane of the hairspring, of the strip forming the hairspring..." in combination with the remaining claim elements as set forth in claim 36.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
